Local Market Review

The latest published figures for Yamba show 191 house and unit sales over the 12 months to September 2026, comprising 137 houses and 54 units.

The median house price was $1,025,000, with reported annual growth of 10.8%. Units recorded a median of $765,000, up 10.1% over the corresponding comparison period. Median selling times were 50 days for houses and 46 days for units.

These annual figures provide useful context, although they should not be interpreted as every property increasing in value or as a direct reflection of conditions today. Changes in the mix of properties sold can influence median prices, while annual statistics can take time to reflect shifts in buyer confidence and negotiating behaviour.

For sellers, the most useful evidence remains recent comparable sales, competing listings and the response to their own campaign. Presentation, realistic pricing and a willingness to respond to buyer feedback remain central to achieving a result.

Yamba's coastal lifestyle continues to be an attraction. For those considering selling, understanding where their property sits within today's market is the best starting point for a successful campaign.
